Hello there!

Originally built in 1912 as the Bryan Ice Company, Ice House on Main has been a central part of the community's story for over a century. Throughout the years, the building has taken on many roles—from an ice-processing facility to a Coca-Cola bottling plant, a furniture manufacturing site, and even a popular nightclub once known as Cell Block Five.

Today, this 20,000 sq. ft. Mission Revival gem in the heart of Bryan's historic district blends timeless character with modern versatility. With original wood floors, exposed brick, and soaring beams, Ice House on Main offers unforgettable spaces for all kinds of gatherings — from weddings, galas, and corporate events to showers, concerts, pop-ups, and everything in between.

This packet outlines our pricing and available packages, along with details about what we offer to help bring your vision to life. Whether you're planning an elegant celebration or a casual community event, we're here to make it happen — and make it memorable.
